

instruction for canon 9000

Because canon 9000 is wide format printer, so it is better to position the tube higher by attach the tube to the printer lid, we do recommend using super glue to attach the clip to the printer lid instead of using the self-glue on the clip come with the ciss, so it can stay forever without falling.

To setup ciss tube on canon 9000, please attach the clip to the printer lid showed below, on the picture it also show in red square line, it is paper clip, you can roll some paper put in there to active the printer lid sensor, so you don't have fully close the lid while printer print

How to install the ciss, please follow this video except how to setup the tube video

if you have any question, please contact us at support @hotzone360l.com or 863-409-7376